

DEFENSE COUNCIL TO RAP RENT PROFITEER

Food Profiteers Will Come First, Then Council Will "Bear" High Profit Renters.

HOW ABOUT R. T. DANIEL?

Small Scale Landlords Follow Example of Los Angeles Millionaires in Some Cases.

Rent profiteers will not be the only offenders that will come under the scrutiny of the council of defense which is expected to be in operation in Tulsa within another week, Mayor Hubbard stated yesterday.

Rent profiteers who are charging in accordance with the necessities of the people for shelter within reason will be dealt with just as severely as the merchant who is charging an unfair price for four or other necessities, the mayor declared.

Complaint was made to The World yesterday that the rent on the Detroit hotel had been increased from $300 to $500 month. The landlord advised the tenant during the water bond campaign that the rent would be increased if the public would not In view of the fact that the bond issue cannot be assessed against taxes for more than a year the approval and sale of the first bonds this rent was raised along with others on similar pretenses. The bond issue at the greatest will add two or three mills to the tax rate and it is not yet determined that it will increase that rate at all, but in spite of this fact the owner of the Detroit hotel building has increased the rent of his tenant 66 and 3-3 per cent.

Following passage of the bond issue, R. T. Daniel, a resident of Los Angeles, Cal., and one of the largest property owners in the city, raised the rents on practically all of his tenants, in some cases as much as 100 per cent. In contrast to this policy, John O. Mitchell, a Tulsa and also a large property owner, stated that he would raise rents on the bond issue carried but would pay whatever tax was due to the bond issue.

Many smaller landlords have been following the policy of R. T. Daniel, and Mayor Hubbard yesterday promised that all these instances would be brought to the attention of the council of defense and drastic action taken against the rent profiteers who are doing as much as any other to make prices high.

OPTICAL CENTER IN TULSA IS PLAN OF ARMY OFFICER

POSTAL RATES STILL BARRING FOOD SALE

Dozens View Burleson's Bulletin Board at Postoffice and Leave Without Ordering.

Captain Wright Allison of the U. S. army medical corps, who served with the second division in France, will be discharged in the near future and will come to Tulsa as the head of an optical company which plans to locate its factory and home office here.

A lens grinding factory occupying a three story building here, with branch offices and retail stores in most of the principal cities of the southwest is the plan of the new company.

DAUGHTER IS STILL MISSING.

Mrs. Sarah Lee of Birmingham Wants to Find Her May Lee, Age 26.

In an effort to find her daughter who has been missing for more than a year Mrs. Sarah Lee of Birmingham has appealed to The World to assist her. The girl whose name is May Lee was married in May, 1918 to a man named Frank Sheppard according to the mother's letter, who has not been seen since.

The girl is badly in need of her daughter's assistance since her son went to the army and has not returned home. The girl is 26 years old, the mother fears that she is dead.

Fourth zone postage rates on surplus army foods sold through the postoffice continued to scare prospective buyers away from the postoffice Wednesday without a single order having been given for food in the three days of the sale. Dozens of persons called at the postoffice in person ready to give orders for government food stocks but when the postage rate was figured up they replaced their pocketbooks and left the building, just as hundreds had done before them on the first two days of the sale.

So orders have been received regarding the changing of postage rates and the post office department will keep Tel. A in the fourth zone post zone and not allow first zone rates on food bought from the army stores. Doing in the fourth zone from the zone surplus office at St. Louis, Tulsaans are forced to pay postage rates which make the net cost on goods bought above the retail price of food stuffs in Tulsa.

HISTORY OF TULSA DURING WAR TO BE COMPLETE

Editing of copy for the history of Tulsa county's part in the war is being completed in a conference of the editing committee of the Tulsa county historical society composed of N. B. Gibson, J. Burr Gibbons and C. B. Douglas. W. T. Lampel who is compiling the data and getting it in form for publication, brought in several chapters of the book including more than 40,000 words. It is estimated that the completed work will contain in the neighborhood of 75,000 words.

The book will contain histories of men who served in the various volunteer and draft units, the war campaign histories of war organizations and every other possible phase of work that contributed to the winning of the war. The text of the book as presented to the committee yesterday by Mr. Lampel nothing.
